TRIESTE PROPOSAL REJECTED

MILITARY OFFICIALS URGED BY PRESIDENT TO SLASH SPENDING

ACTION DESCRIBED AS BATTLE AGAINST SOME INFLATIONARY FORCES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—President Truman called urgently today for all government agencies to cut down on their spending. He specifically named the army, navy, and maritime commission.

"I am asking the secretaries of war and navy and the maritime commission to reduce expenditures substantially below the amounts they had previously programmed for this fiscal year," Mr. Truman said.

The economy call followed disclosure that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adm. Chester Nimitz contend army-navy budgets already have been cut to the minimum.

In a formal statement, Mr. Truman declared that reductions in federal expenditures are imperative in view of "the present inflationary situation."

The president's statement was contained in a letter to the heads of all executive departments and agencies. It said:

Must Reduce Inflation

"We must do everything within our power to reduce inflationary pressures. One of the most effective means of doing this is to reduce federal expenditures."

The president's statement was read public at a news conference at which he announced he will hold a news conference on the budget at the White House tomorrow.

The statement emphasized that the nation's present fiscal situation "is a most serious one."

Budget Deficit

"We are faced with a continued substantial budget deficit in the present year," it contained. "Even those federal expenditures which are most necessary have the effect of increasing inflationary pressure in the total national economy."

Mr. Truman asked public works agencies "to postpone commitments and actual construction so far as possible, and to keep their expenditures and programs within certain specified totals."

He asked each of the departments to review expenditure programs and not to hesitate "to eliminate work of low priority," and to concentrate even on "smaller and smaller economies."

Mr. Truman's statement followed disclosure of a solid front presentation by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz against any further cuts in army and navy budgets.

In the case of lumber and textiles, Mr. Truman suggested that procurement be deferred even beyond next January, 1947. He added that the government should limit purchases of construction equipment, automotive and office equipment to cases of "urgent necessity" up to that date so as not to compete for items in short supply.

Teague Endorsed In Congress Race By 3 Opponents

MEXIA, Tex., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Three opponents who were defeated in Saturday's primary race for congressman from the Sixth Congressional District last night endorsed Col. Olin E. (Tiger) Teague of Bryan for the Aug. 24 runoff.

At a meeting here last night, the Bryan war veteran was endorsed by Lynn Griffith of Waxahachie, Joe Cowley of Hillsboro and Judge Fountain H. Kirby of Limestone County.

This month's runoff for this congressional post has special significance in that the winner will take office immediately and not wait until November. The winner will be the successor of veteran representative Luther A. Johnson who resigned recently to accept a Federal Judge appointment.

Gov. Coke Stevenson set Aug. 24 as the date for a special election for Johnson's unexpired term. The names of the two runoff candidates will be entered on the ballot for this special election.

TENNESSEE PRIMARY TODAY TO DECIDE FUTURE POLITICAL FATE OF 77-YEAR-OLD SEN. M'KELLAR

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Tennesseans voted today to say whether they'll return 77-year-old Sen. K. D. McKellar, veteran of 29 years in the senate and president pro tem of the body, for another six-year term.

Four opponents faced him in the Democratic primary election, including a 46-year-old lawyer, Edward Ward Carmack, who came within a few thousand votes of unseating Tennessee's junior Senator Tom Stewart, four years ago.

More than 300,000 votes were expected to be cast. A plurality alone was necessary for nomination and the Democratic nomination is usually equivalent to election in this border state.

Congress May Put Off Adjournment Until Bills Passed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Senate Majority Leader Barkley (D-N.Y.) said today plans to adjourn the 70th congress now may have to be changed because of two controversial disputes.

The controversies involve a senate resolution calling for United States acceptance of compulsory jurisdiction of the world court, and a house squeakover over senate amendments to a bill freezing the social security payroll tax.

The house has passed and sent to the senate a resolution calling for final adjournment tomorrow. Barkley told reporters, however, he would not want to insist on that date if it appeared the senate could approve the world court resolution in two or three days more. The

PROBERS TO DIG INTO BOOMTIME SPENDING, SEEK TO DETERMINE BLAME FOR GI-KILLING SHELLS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Chairman Mead (D-N.Y.) said today the senate war investigating committee will dig into the boom spending of wartime years in the automotive, aircraft, aluminum and shipbuilding industries before drafting recommendations to prevent possible future frauds.

"We want to get the complete picture before making our report," he told reporters. The committee is in a brief breathing spell after a month of public hearings concentrated chiefly upon the operations of the Garson munitions combine.

The committee will meet in executive session tomorrow to map plans for the immediate future.

Concluding the first phase of its open hearings on war contracts, the committee announced it will give "high priority" to a separate "major investigation" seeking to fix responsibility for failure of the shells and the resultant casualties.

Major Gen. Alden H. Waitt, chief of the army's warfare service, estimated in testimony last week that 10 or 12 soldiers were killed by premature shell-bursts, but said he didn't think it was possible to pin the blame on any one manufacturer.

A later report revised the number of casualties upward to 29 killed and 83 injured.

JACKSON EXPECTED TO RETURN TO JOB WHEN TRIALS END

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—President Truman said today he expects Associate Justice Robert H. Jackson to resume his duties on the supreme court upon his return to the United States.

Jackson, chief U. S. prosecutor at German war crimes trial in Nuremberg, is due back in Washington tomorrow.

Mr. Truman was asked at a news conference whether he expected to talk with Jackson about differences on the supreme court, including Jackson's disagreements with Justice Hugo Black. The president replied he expected to talk with Jackson about his duties in Germany.

CENT-PER-LOAF HIKE IN BREAD PRICE IS DISCUSSED BY O.P.A.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The government is trying to reach a decision today on whether to allow price increases of a penny a loaf on bread and about a cent a pound of flour.

Top O.P.A. and agriculture department officials conferred on this as the new price decontrol board pushed plans to start public hearings by August 12 on this issue.

Should price ceilings be restored August 20 on meats, dairy products, grains, cotton seed and soy beans?

Chairman Roy L. Thompson announced last night that as soon as the board decided on its plan it will tackle the question of whether controls should go back on eggs, poultry, tobacco and petroleum.

Callings cannot be revoked on these latter items before August 20 in any event, nor thereafter without consent of the board.

SABBATH IS SLIPPING FROM LIFE OF THESE MODERN TIMES*

GRANDPA WISDOM
A grandpa, as I've often said, Must know how fishing lines are thread, and how the leaders should be tied
So minnows show their silver side.
For these are matters of concern
To little boys who want to learn.

A grandpa, worth the name, must know
The proper way a boat to row.
He may be wise in business terms,
But he must know the place for worms.

And how to fix them on a hook
Attractive to the fish to look.

A grandpa won't amount to much
If with the bass he's out of touch.
He's forgotten where they lie
And where to cast a frog or fly.

Some other man who knows will be Considered wiser far than he.

ROYAL ECONOMY

Nothing makes better reading than stories about pretty princesses. Along comes a nice tale about England's Princess Elizabeth. It seems she likes jazz, enjoys dancing and has a weakness for new frocks, passing on used ones to her royal younger sister. And she can cook.
This last stretches credulity
a little, for it's hard to imagine her getting by the servant line to learn.

One detail, however, will stop young America: she likes to drive, but she doesn't have a car of her own.
She has to borrow her pa-pa's.

GROOMING FOR GRANDPA

He will be 92 in a month or so. Though a bit frail, and a little deaf, he mixed pleasantly on the fringes at his grand daughter's wedding reception. Every guest made a point to speak to him—
because they all wanted to.

One of the reasons why his old age has been a happy
one with many friends and much company about him, is his grooming. Always he has been meticulous about his appearance.
He admits that as he has grown older he has become more particular about daily baths, shaving, clean linen and pressed suits.

He looks as spruce today
as when he was courting grandmother, and people
like him for it.

TRIUMPH OF SPIRIT

Fighting for his life from air crash injuries, Movie-Producer Howard Hughes gave a lucid technical report on what he had figured out as the cause of his plane's failure. He had asked his doctor if he was to live, and on being told his chances were doubtful, the man was able to clear away
the fogs of pain and suffering to give a long, detailed statement about his plane's performance.

Hughes was clearly motivated by considerations of science as he made his contribution to furthering man's attempt at mastery of the skies. What an extraordinary commentary this is on selfishness, and the heights which the human mind and spirit can attain.

The British government wants to sell 3,750,000 corrugated metal bomb shelters. They suggest using them as coal bunkers, per-golas, or perambulator sheds. How many would it take to make a house?

Seems as if the smaller
this world grows, the less sense it has.

Russian ability to annoy
Uncle Sam amounts to genius.

Observance of Holy Day is Diminishing,
Even Among Christians - - What is Real
Sabbath-Keeping? - - Jesus as a Sabbath-Breaker - - The Old Ways and the New

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS
Any broad view of the tendencies of the times must take account of the decline of Sabbath observance.
It is becoming a play day instead of a holy day. Overlooked is the importance of the Sabbath as a holy day imbedded in the revealed and eternal law which we call the Ten Commandments. It is as sacred as the Divine Law as "Thou shall not kill" and "Thou shall not steal."

Amusement, trade and travel are among the forces that impede full observance of the Lord's Day. The radio is preeminent offender, for listeners have to choose between their favorite programs and church attendance. In certain circles golf takes precedence over worship.
Movie houses are open on Sunday,
and baseball games draw myriads.
There is no galasayng the situation;
the Church is losing out in her struggle for a Christian Sabbath.

Tied Up With the Sabbath
The Sabbath is more to the keeping of the Sabbath holy than the mere observance of historic observances.

When the Sabbath goes, worship of God goes also;
that is of first importance. Second is the right of tollers to have the one rest day in seven which medical and social science deem essential to human well-being.

For where the Sabbath is secularized
there it becomes a work day. Home ties are weakened when the Sabbath is no longer kept. Men thinking slumps when there is no longer a day set apart for the consideration of holy things, and of men's relation to God. Children miss the training which accompanies a well-kept Sabbath. Criminologists have been quick to point out the relationship between juvenile delinquency and the fact that seventeen million children in the United States and Canada are without any religious instruction whatever.

A Sabbath Well Spent
Older folk look back wistfully
upon the time when the Lord's Day meant a cessation of normal activities, a real rest day; when they gathered with the neighbors in Church and in leisurely social intercourse; when the Bible, the book of life, was opened to them and their inner spirits responded;
religious literature was Sunday reading when the whole family, often plus friends, gathered for a leisurely Sunday dinner.

Then highways were not filled with rushing automobiles; the silences were not shattered by blaring radios, and no motion picture competed with the Churches.

That old Sunday did something to man's spirit. It fortified his soul, and taught him the great lessons of eternity. It quickened his sense of citizenship, and social responsibility; for the foundations of democracy are laid in religion.
It widened his understanding of the world and his missionary gifts gave him a return of compassion.
It enhanced his neighborly contacts, and created a strong community of interest, founded on common loyalty to God.

The Sabbath was made for man, and the Sabbath made a man out of the youth who was taught to observe it.

The Puritan Touch
It is true that the gloomy Puritan

SPECULATORS, NOT OPA, BLAMED FOR COTTON DECLINES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—(P)—Rep. Paul Brown of Georgia yesterday said cotton provisions of the new OPA bill "should have a bullish effect on the market" and "speculative forces" which he blamed for recent declines in cotton prices.

Brown declared it is "not true" that the revival of OPA caused the decline.

He said that after investigation he came to the conclusion "that the principal reason for the decline has been those speculative forces which have operated to the detriment of the cotton producers for many years."

Former Corsicanan Weds Fairfield Man In Local Ceremony

Miss Maud Cummings, daughter of O. L. Cummings of Fairfield, became the bride of Lee Eubanks of Fairfield in a late Saturday afternoon ceremony performed by Dr. Mattie W. Arnold in the parlors of the Third Avenue Presbyterian church. The bride and her parents are former residents of Corsicana.

The bride chose a frock of aqua crepe, whose full skirt was gathered to a bodice unadorned except for a gold ornament and her bridal corsage of carnations. She wore accessories in black and white and fastened her fiance's fraternity pin beneath her flowers for the traditional something old.

Mrs. A. S. Nagy, who attended her, was gowned in a sheer floral print with black lace trim, and her accessories were black and white. She also wore white carnations at the shoulder. Mr. Nagy acted as best man for the bridegroom.

Reception Is Held.

Following the ceremony, read before an intimate group of friends and the bride's father, an informal reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Palmer, 830 West Seventh avenue.

A crystal basket of lemon and gold marigolds centered the lace-laid table. Illuminated by white tapers in golden holders, garden flowers were used in decorating throughout the home.

Mrs. Donald Borsellino presided at the tiered wedding cake, adorned with a miniature bridal figure.

ceilings has been recommended to OPA Chief Paul Porter by his aides.

However, even if Porter concedes the approval of the agriculture department is required to put increases on these food items into effect.

Decision is Tentative

The recommendation submitted to Porter is based on a tentative decision against restoring the flour subsidy which lapsed July 1. In the meantime OPA officials took the stand that the subsidy could be paid again only if the decontrol board votes to restore ceilings on wheat.

Porter and the agriculture department must review this decision, too.

The subsidy held down retail prices a cent a loaf on bread and about a cent a pound on flour. Since it lapsed there has been no upward adjustment of ceilings to compensate millers for loss of the government millers.

The subsidy amounted to $1.08 on each 100 pounds of flour. OPA said. Officials predicted that any ceiling price increase may amount to about $1.11 to offset a rise in wheat costs since grain controls expired.

angry mood, for they feel, rightly or wrongly, that the British cabinet mission double-crossed them in order to appease the National Congress.

The Congress, in June, was on the point of bolting both the constitutional assembly and the temporary government to be set up under the new constitution was shaped. The Moslem had agreed to both. The cabinet mission labored to reconcile the differences and avoid a complete failure.

The Congress balked on the temporary government issue due to differences on the proportion of Moslem representation. It finally agreed to share in the framing of the constitution but only, reliable sources said, on condition that the British side the Moslem league, which was willing to go ahead with forming a central government.

It was a critical decision for the cabinet mission, but it decided in favor of the Congress, indicating clearly that it was convinced it must work with the Congress.

Now the British must decide whether they will work alone with the Congress, find a means of appealing to the League, or scuttle the whole affair.

A stormy session ensued two years ago between two factions at the convention, with the liberals barely carrying a margin.

The liberals had control of the larger boxes in Corsicana Saturday, delegates reported, a condition that did not exist two years ago.

to 2.5 percent on employees' pay and employers' payrolls next January 1.

Meanwhile, the lawmakers sent a flood of other last minute bills to the White House.

Many Bills Passed

These were the fast-moving session-end developments:

1. The $3,000,000 GI terminal pay bill was put on President Truman's desk. It cleared both the Senate and house yesterday.

2. Senator Morse (Oregon) moved in the Senate for acceptance of compulsory jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice. This would give the court full rights to settle a wide assortment of America's legal disputes with other nations. A two-thirds vote is necessary for the motion to carry. House action is not required.

3. An attempt to enact the anti-poll tax bill before Congress quite failed yesterday when the Senate refused to limit debate.

Funds Are Voted

4. The Senate brought forward the last appropriation bill of the session—a $2,479,662,210 measure including more funds for the resurrected OPA and money for payments on the GI terminal pay bill.

5. The Senate war investigating committee continued its inquiry into war contracts. There were indications, however, it will take an extended summer recess.

Along with a raft of minor bills, Mr. Truman yesterday signed a measure authorizing the treasury to sell its unpledged silver at 90.5 cents an ounce, and to buy newly mined silver at the same price. Mr. Truman used a silver pen to affix his signature.

Legislation to control stream pollution bogged down today in controversy and proponents said it would be shelved.

The controversy centers on a provision giving the federal government broad authority to compel industries and even local governments to cooperate in measures to abate pollution of navigable streams.

Such streams are under the jurisdiction of the war department engineers.

The legislation would set up a new unit in the U. S. Public Health Service to cooperate with local government and recommend methods of purifying streams contaminated by industrial wastes and sewage.

It would provide annual appropriations up to $100,000,000 to help finance costly anti-pollution facilities.

REHEARING ON STATE SENATE SESSION IS ASKED HIGH COURT

AUSTIN, Aug. 1—(AP)—A rehearing on the validity of the extraordinary confirmation session held by the state senate was sought today in the State Supreme Court.

Motion for rehearing was filed by N. J. Walker, who seeks a mandamus to force the State Board of Control and the Comptroller to pay his claim of $87.57 for printing the Journal of the senate during the January session.

Walker's motion was based on the fact that the Supreme Court was sharply split in its opinion of July 17. Five justices concurred in refusing the mandamus, while Chief Justice James P. Alexander and three others dissented.

Walker's attorneys emphasized

Erie Basin Metal Products, Inc., one firm in the Garson combine of war manufacturers under investigation, held a big contract for the 4.2 shells. Waitt noted that other companies made the same size shell.

Announcing the investigation in a statement, the committee made public a questionnaire. It will circulate chiefly among former military men having "first-hand knowledge of the affairs."

The announcement came after the committee's activities had produced these other developments:

1. James P. McGranery, assistant to the attorney general, testified that the three-year statute of limitations barred any action in connection with the $2,500 payment from a Tacoma, Wash., defense contractor to Paul A. Olson, former secretary to Rep. Coffey (D-Wash.). Otherwise, McGranery said he would have submitted the facts to a grand jury.

Coffee Denies "Crime."

2. Coffee acknowledged there was "perhaps a question of ethics" involved in the case but denied that either he or Olson was guilty of any crime.

3. Senator Mitchell (D-Wash.), a committee member, raised in the Senate a question as to "whether it is 'moral competition'" and "moral character" of General Waitt, whose testimony concerning the chemical shell failures, he said, contained "errors and contradictions."

4. Senator Magnuson (D-Wash.) expressed the hope to the Senate the committee would have something to say about what he termed the "arrogance" of General Breton Somervell, retired chief of the army service forces. Magnuson contended Somervell had "squandered practically $300,000,000 of American money" in connection with the wartime Alaska highway and Canal projects.

5. Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) urged that records of the committee be examined by any one preparing the government's defense to Erie's court petition.

Appointments Announced.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—(AP)—President Truman announced today he is appointing Keen Johnson, former governor of Kentucky, as undersecretary of labor.

The president also told his news conference he is naming William L. Clayton undersecretary of state in charge of economic affairs under new legislation he is prepared to sign.

In the new motion filed today that they believe the Supreme Court erred in failing to apply the same construction to the non-legislative duty of impeachment.

The motion pointed out that the power of impeachment exists at all times and contended the analogy should hold true with regard to confirmation of governor's appointees.

Special Election On Land Fund To Be Held Nov. 7

AUSTIN, Aug. 1.—(AP)—A special election to determine whether the state should set up a 25-million dollar veterans' land fund to purchase lands for sale to World War II veterans will be held Nov. 7.

Gov. Coke R. Stevenson yesterday ordered the election on the proposed constitutional amendment to permit this action.

He set the election for the first Thursday in November, two days after the November general election. The supreme court had ruled that the election must be held on that day as provided for in the resolution adopted by the 49th legislature.

Airline Requests Corsicana Data

Earl F. Slick, president of Slick Airways, Inc., of San Antonio, has requested the Chamber of Commerce to give him an estimate of the air freight cargo requirements of Corsicana.

In a letter to E. D. Mueller, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Slick said that Slick Airways, Inc., has applied to the Civil Aeronautics Board for a permit to operate a nation-wide air cargo service and expressed the intention of the firm to land its planes in every community where "volume of freight might originate and where suitable landing fields are available."

He also requested Mueller to let him know what interest there is in Corsicana for a service of this type.

Marriages Outstrip Divorces In July

Cupid was victorious again in the month of July to prove that marriage is here to stay as 68 couples made application for licenses and 41 had the knot severed in Navarro county.

The heat had an effect on Mr. and Mrs. as 37 additional grew angry and filed for hearing in district court with the object of untangling the knot. Civil cases filed totalled 12.

With what election time and the heat, which Sheriff C. O. (Cap) Cullinan says makes people mad and they want to fight, divorces show there were 71 arrests.

FORMER OFFICER DISCUSSES ARMY AT ROTARY CLUB

John H. Bush, former Air Corps lieutenant colonel, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club at the Navarro Hotel today. The topic of his talk was "The Army Cast System."

He told the Rotarians, "Many mistakes were made by officers in their relationships with enlisted men" and said that much of the criticism that has been made of the so-called army caste system has been justified.

The training and assignment of enlisted men was partly responsible for much of the dissatisfaction felt by them, he pointed out. Men of considerable attainment in civilian life were often put in old organizations where all positions above the rank of private were filled, or they were shoved into organizations going overseas before they had any opportunity to obtain deserving promotion.

Part of the fault rests in the limited training given officers, he said. "In the air corps, there wasn't time to train officers. The schools had to train technicians, not leaders. There were cases of officers abusing their authority because they were not adequately trained in the principles of leadership."

The qualifications an officer needs are tolerance, fairness, firmness, and faith in his beliefs, he said.

He pointed out that many officers in the air corps were youths of 18 or 20 years of age, who, starting out as a second lieutenant, found themselves in charge of quarters, millions of dollars worth of property and ten men. In a year or two, if the officer was diligent, he might find himself in charge of 25 million dollars worth of property, 400 men and 100 officers, which would compare with the responsibility for management of a large industry.

"With 21-year old boys managing such an enterprise there is little wonder that there was cause for much criticism."

He suggested that the solution of the problem begins in the home.

Home Training Needed

"Parents should teach the boy how to take responsibility. They should teach him tolerance, fair ness and the ability to get along with his fellow man," he said.

In this connection, he said that the army will have little trouble with complaints about a caste system because the officers will be able, by virtue of their home and civilian training, to lead men rather than simply to command them.

W. T. Moon was introduced as a new member. Visitors were G. A. McCright, Longview; Joe Harl, Dallas, and Dick Rubottom, new assistant vice president of the State National Bank, who is a member of the Ascension, Paraguay, Rotary Club.

PESTROY DDT LIQUID COATING

Here's how PESTROY kills and keeps on killing insects!

After application, PESTROY DDT particles rise to top of coating, form a crystalline film. This DDT film kills insects that touch it... keeps on killing day after day, week after week. You see, PESTROY is compounded with a new type of synthetic resin. This special resin binds PESTROY DDT to any surface, makes it cling, keeps it from brushing off or blowing away.

WHY PESTROY IS SO AMAZING:

1. It's a crystallized coating—it's on the job with full effectiveness 24 hours a day.
2. It's a perfectly balanced DDT formula—an exclusive, scientific blend of DDT and other chemical agents.
3. It kills on contact.
4. It stays on—doesn't brush off or blow away. You apply it once and it lasts.
5. It's safe—eliminates irritating fumes and other dangers of spraying.
6. It kills and keeps on killing—one application has lethal effects for months.
7. It's economical—can be applied without waste to the spots where it does the most good... gives lasting protection against bugs.
